Juniper Point Apartments offer a cat friendly space that is safe for kids and welcoming to families. Come visit us for a tour to find out if our community is the right home for your family. Living in Sanford Sanford is a small city of just over 25,000 that sits close to the I-95 corridor, making it an easy commute to the North Carolina “research triangle” that includes the cities of Raleigh, Durham and Chapel Hill. This region boasts some of the finest universities in the world and sits at the center of research and high-tech business opportunities. Sanford is one of those rare towns that offer excellent access to education for your children alongside secure employment for you. Close also to Greensboro and Fayetteville, this city has ample large employers in the textile and high-tech industries. Furthermore, Sanford is home to the US Army’s Fort Bragg, supporting the famed 82nd Airborne and with its 50,000 active personnel. But life in Sanford doesn’t only focus on employment. The town has a wealth of restaurants and shops, all within easy reach of our Juniper Apartments. Most conveniences are readily available, from grocery stores to clothing, and the town also hosts a movie theatre and plenty of nearby places to eat for a perfect night out. Juniper Point Apartments for Rent Our Juniper Point apartments have everything you need to be happy as you explore central North Carolina. They are close to downtown but set away privately from the road in a safe community designed for families. Every apartment within the complex has newly updated interiors and well-maintained exteriors and grounds. Fresh, soft carpet lines the floors and the rooms are spacious enough for a family to live comfortably. Each apartment comes with a private patio or balcony so necessary on a long summer evening, and a washer/dryer hook-up. We offer a huge children’s playground for your little ones, so you can rest easy knowing the kids are safely playing close to home. As a pet-friendly company, we welcome indoor cats to come and live at Juniper Point as well. On top of all of that, water, sewer and trash removal are included in the rent so you’ll have few bills to pay as you enjoy the patio, the kids on the swings and laundry right in your new home!
